INTERIOR DESIGN

Interior design with a soul. A sense of place.
Reflecting your desires, personality and style.

Sandra Funk is the CEO and principal designer of House of Funk, a greater New York area design firm working wherever great clients need us. House of Funk creates thoughtful homes with an emphasis on clean lines and soulful touches, all rooted in tradition.

Step 1: Getting to Know You

Your home should be an authentic reflection of you. Our process always starts with getting to know you. We want to know how you'd like to feel and function in the space, and what kinds of results you'd like to see from our work together. During this big-picture conversation, we discuss design direction and your style, how you want to feel in your completed space, scope, budget, our process, and our fees. This phase is also where you get to share your dreams for your space.

Step 2: Conceptual Design Phase

This is where our greatest value lies. We take in all of your input and desires, consider the location and architecture of your home, and the needs of your family. We truly envision your project from all of these angles, making sure that spaces flow from one room to another, that they fit your lifestyle, family and aesthetic, as well as the character of the architectural structure. During this phase, we will confirm the design direction, layout and furnishings investment estimate.

Step 3: Detailed Design Phase

After conceptual design, our team digs into the details. Elevations, sketches for custom pieces and lots of sourcing dominate this time. In this phase, we complete selections in accordance with the approved inspiration boards and finalize floor plans. Then, we propose all items for your approval. We showcase the summary of the design components in our detailed design presentation. There, you will see each fabric, finish, and detail all tied back to your approved scope and furnishings investment estimate.

Step 4: Purchasing and Execution Phase

All purchasing and execution goes through us. Once proposals are signed and payment is received, orders are placed and a timeline is set. We communicate with vendors and contractors on the specific details that make the design really "sing." If your project includes a renovation, this is when the construction begins. We oversee and coordinate deliveries and installations. Our team will be on site for the installations to ensure that the transformation is complete and that we've created the home of your dreams.
